ELLE DECORATION

CONTENTS

STYLE

29 Spring shopping Piet Hein Eek’s new collaboration with Ikea, nine of the best affordable sofas, and our wishlists for this month – plus, all the other new-season buys to check out right now

61 The virtual high street Snap up unique, accessible designs from the comfort of your sofa with our pick of the best independent online retailers

67 Design We chat to Alice Black, co-director of London’s Design Museum, about what’s inspiring her, as well as taking a closer look at two revolutionary furniture brands: GHYCZY and Kettal

73 Decorating The latest wallpapers, paints and fabrics, plus a celebration of silver. Dive into Dimore Studio’s kaleidoscopic fabric collection, rediscover pattern legend De Vogue and meet interior design duo Robinson Van Noort

85 Architecture We look at how three derelict buildings in London are being given a new lease of life by architects, and discuss future masterpieces with Jim Olson, founding partner of Olson Kundig

88 Technology A stylish console featuring a high-tech vinyl turntable, headphones with ‘3D sound’ and other gadgets that will update your home

ITALIAN DESIGN

93 In the run-up to the Milan Furniture Fair, we reveal our directory of need-to-know brands and share their latest launches

COVER

NEWSSTAND
This month’s cover features pretty, pastel-toned buys from our spring style shoot on p340

SUBSCRIBER
Our most loyal readers can take a closer look

BATHROOM SPECIAL

177 Our edit of the hottest bathroom trends, plus what to buy to get the looks
GLOBAL LUXURY
LONDON
87-89 WIGMORE STREET, LONDON, W1U 1DL
T. +44 (0)3 207 466 8445 - info@globalluxurylondon.com
www.globaluxurylondon.com

A Collection designed by Massimo Castagna
HENGE
Established in 2007, Henge takes as its starting point what it calls ‘the expressive force of natural materials’ – burnished brass, grey and coffee-coloured marbles and exotic timbers are all part of its palette. The company’s art director, Massimo Castagna, creates furniture that is intended to age beautifully. New designs for 2018 focus on surprising finishes: the ‘Ace’ table is part of a new dining range and features a top made of briar-root mosaic, while the ‘Starlight’ chandelier (above) is crafted from antiqued cast bronze. See the collection at Global Luxury London.
henge07.com; globalluxurylondon.com

LEMA
Not surprisingly, as it was the first Italian company to develop freestanding and made-to-measure wardrobes, Lema excels at storage. The brand was founded in 1970 by the Meroni family, who still run it today. Their latest innovations include ‘Air Cleaning’, an air-conditioning system for wardrobes that keeps clothes in tip-top condition. The star of the new collection is ‘Parole’ (above), a seat/container by Gordon Guillaumier that reflects the vogue for hybrid furniture. lemamobili.it

MAXALTO
With a focus on fine craftsmanship – the name Maxalto is derived from ‘massa alta’, meaning ‘the highest’ in Venetian dialect – this sister brand to B&B Italia was founded in 1975 with wooden furniture designs by husband-and-wife architects Afra and Tobia Scarpa. Antonio Citterio is now chief designer – his ‘Otium’ sofa (right) is an instant classic. behititalia.com

KNOLL
One of the most important names in 20th-century design, Knoll celebrates its 80th anniversary this year. Founded by Hans Knoll and subsequently helmed by his wife Florence, it has commissioned work by iconic designers including Harry Bertoia, Isamu Noguchi and Eero Saarinen. The latter created the ‘Tulip’ tables in 1957, which have now been reissued in Rosso Rubino marble (coloured marbles are a key trend for 2018). This spring, a new version of the ‘Tulip’ seat (left) will be launched. knoll-int.com

LIVING DIVANI
Exceptional furniture for the living room, bedroom and outdoors is the hallmark of Living Divani, which is famous for modular sofas such as Piero Lissoni’s ‘Extrasoft’, a series of big, padded cubes. Lissoni is the brand’s art director and brings an interesting mix of new talents on board – among them Japanese-Taiwanese duo Tamaki Design Studio, creators of the new ‘Tombo’ clothes rail (right). livingdivani.it

LONGHI
Longhi specialises in luxurious designs for the living room, many featuring precious materials – the ‘Cohen’ corner sofa, for instance, has built-in niches and shelves in backlit onyx or marble that create a moody glamour by night. Its designs have an on-trend 1960s/70s feel, with lots of polished brass, marble and exotic wood. As well as a reissue of Joe Colombo’s 1963 ‘Elda’ armchair, there’s also the ‘Aluminium Chair’ collection of sliding doors, such as the ‘Land’ design by Alessandro La Spada (left) in smoked glass, brass and boiserie. longhi.it >